PROPOSAL LETTER

Elkana Nyachae

8/1/2024

Hello My Queen,

From the moment our paths first intertwined, my heart has known a joy it never thought possible. Every day with you is a new chapter in a beautiful story that I never want to end.

With you, the ordinary becomes extraordinary. Your laughter is my favorite melody, and your smile is the light that guides me through even the darkest times. I cherish every moment we share and look forward to creating countless more memories together.

Today, I find myself unable to imagine a future without you. The thought of growing old together, sharing in life's adventures, and building a home filled with love and laughter fills me with a profound sense of happiness.

So, with all the love I have in my heart and a future I hope we can share, I ask you this: Will you marry me? Will you be my partner in this incredible journey and my forever love?

I promise to cherish, support, and adore you for the rest of our days. Please say yes, and let's begin this beautiful new chapter together.

Yours always and forever,

Husband to be.
